A nation at war and a revolution of thoughts, The Runners is the story of humanity, divided by reality and by belief, into 2 irreconcilable nations at war. Both sides live in the same day in the same world, but their stories and motivations are different. The citizens of the Republic have been influenced and programmed to perform the actions set out for them by their governments through machines and propaganda. Citizens are subjugated to their government by the fear of punishment, not by love of their country and not by a desire to share the beliefs of their nation. The citizen, as the economic and ideological driver of the State, is amoral and has no moral compass. In contrast, the citizens of the Rainbows Republic live by the principles of Peace, Love and Respect. The citizens share a common faith and strive to live by the principles of their culture, not by the laws of their government. The citizen, as the role model for the future of their nation, is a spiritual believer that is guided by his or her conscience. A time of great moral uncertainty and political conflict, the citizens of both nations must find their purpose and fight for their principles. Both sides seek to be the dominant force in their world, but their methods are different, and so too are their outcomes. You are the leader of your nation as its Prime Minister, charged with ensuring the safety and well being of your citizens and protecting them against those who seek to destroy you. You must coordinate your nation's war effort, lead your people's soldiers into battle, unify your people as one nation, and wage a campaign of war for your political beliefs and your people's beliefs in the Light. Controlling the battlefield, your soldiers, and the moral and political infrastructure of your society, the Republic will have the numbers, resources, and support of a superpower and control the hearts and minds of your people. The Runners is a 3D real-time strategy game that invites you to challenge yourself. You are a battlefield commander with a strong army, political mind, and a moral compass. You must inspire your people to the frontlines of war and unite them around your cause. You will have to build political bridges and rally your people's support into a unifying war machine. You will lead your nation into a war that will influence a generation and will decide the fate of your people for decades to come. A true real-time strategy game in the

Europa Universalis IV: Songs Of Yuletide With Key For PC [Latest] 2022

The Year 1 calendar day of Yuletide has arrived on the world of Europa Universalis IV. The days of Winter are over, now the world opens up again. With all the seasons available, the option to play through winter or summer has been removed. All of the research possibilities from the previous game have returned, now with added functionality. The new research buildings can be mixed and matched with the old to offer greater variety. A new empire building system gives new depth to the world's diplomacy. Now, rather than merely demanding resources and trade agreements, an empire can now choose to enhance their province through the buildings they own. Take control of your empire and fill it with the people and buildings you wish, or take a more hands-off approach by simply giving your empire the best start-up bonuses, to see the best possible outcome. This is not your normal Europa Universalis IV. It doesn't have the air of just being a "more detailed" version of the previous game. What's new:

Europa Universalis IV: Songs of Yuletide, also known as Europa Universalis IV: Yule, is a gameplay modification for Paradox Development Studio's grand strategy video game Europa Universalis IV by the Humble Bundle modder "ThePadhe", who creates and releases mods and expansions for the game through the Humble Store and Steam. The mod, which was released in December 2016, introduces winter gameplay options for players, which are characterized by new campaign stories, unit and building customizations, and the addition of winter art and weather effects into the game. Its implementation is heavy on user feedback, allowing players to offer both positive and negative critiques of the mod's features and visuals in comments. The new campaigns set in the game's fictional realms in 14th-century Europe are set during the Christmas season, and include war, diplomacy and espionage-based storylines in addition to grand battles and combat. The mod also introduces seasonal trade and winter clothing for units, as well as a seasonal image effect for the portraits of units and leaders. In contrast to its gameplay add-ons, its visual changes are comparatively barebones, featuring units in winter clothing with no units or buildings altered, and a set of seasonal art and weather effects. As of September 2017, there are over 9,000 active monthly users of the mod on both itch.io and Steam, with several hundred users playing the mod daily. Critical reception of the mod was generally positive, with reviewers particularly praising its alternate settings and sound. Reviewers and players also criticized or disliked the mod's slow pace and lack of significant user features. Gameplay Songs of Yuletide is a gameplay modification for Europa Universalis IV by the Humble Bundle modder "ThePadhe", who creates and releases mods and expansions for the game through the Humble Store and Steam. Designed as an optional modification for Europa Universalis IV, Songs of Yuletide was first released in December 2016 in a version restricted only for multi-user mods. Its database includes and relies on user feedback to define its features. The mod adds a winter variant to the game as a free extra, with new campaign stories, unit and building customizations, and the addition of winter art and weather effects to the game. Players can choose their own custom settings for game rules, such as the size of the European mainland, and the availability of a fall or winter variant. According to its creator, its goal is to change Europa Universalis IVs default weather and seasons and
